

Would you like to present your research at an international conference?

Calling all SCIENCE and bio-engineering students: Now's your chance to win a travel grant to present your research at an international research conference.

The Competition: The AusBiotech-GSK Student Excellence Awards are national research awards, partnered exclusively by GlaxoSmithKline (GSK) Australia. These national awards aim to recognise and encourage research students and to raise awareness of research translation and applications.

The prizes: Six state winners will be invited to compete for the national title at the AusBiotech10 conference in Melbourne. The state awards cover travel, accommodation and registration to the conference in Melbourne from 19 – 22 October 2010 (www.ausbiotech2010.com.au).

The national winner will receive a $7,000 travel grant to be used to present their research at an international conference.

In addition, the national winner's principal supervisor will receive a $2,000 research grant.

Want to know more?

For more information please visit:

www.ausbiotech.org/studentexcellenceawards

The AusBiotech Student Association (ABSA), a special interest group of AusBiotech, aims to link students with industry. For more information on ABSA please contact Dr Olgatina Bushi obushi@ausbiotech.org

Applications close – 13 August 2010

Don't miss this opportunity to KICK START your BIOcareer